MEADOW BROOK INVICTUS

It is now approximately a hundred years since sportsmen and non-sportsmen began to sound the death knell of foxhunting. First it was the railroads which put up locked or unjumpable gates at crossings and were certain to annihilate whole packs as soon as foxes learned to run the rails. They didn't. Next it was barbed wire that in the '70's began to replace the ox rails protecting England's hedges from bullocks persecuted by flies. In the fashionable countries of those days the problem was solved simply by taking the wire down in winter. Then, with the turn of the century, came the automobile whose perils could not be confined to tracks and a right of way, but which would pursue hounds even into the country lanes. But somehow hounds managed to survive.

Hard on the automobile came tarred roads on which no horse would be able to keep his feet—but sharp caulks and the invention of studs solved that one. In this country came the adoption of woven wire fencing—American wire as it is often called. If hounds were taught to jump it they would sooner or later be caught by a hind leg. Most of the English hounds then popular were too big to get through it—so Masters turned to American hounds, mostly of the smaller type. Panels and jumps were built in the wire.

The Industrial Revolution was catching up on us. On both sides of the Atlantic agriculture lost its predominance, the repeal of the Corn Laws in England being a particularly heavy blow. What future could there be in industrial civilization for such a country pursuit as foxhunting. The cleavage between Town and Country became so marked that not long ago the so-called "Anti-Blood Sports" organizations in England came within an ace of getting a bill through Parliament which would in effect have put an end to foxhunting. In this country the pressure of city gunners on Game Commissions has produced such an increase in the deer herds that huntsmen have had to develop methods of deer proofing their packs.

Economic considerations became rapidly more specific. We fought two World Wars and had to tax ourselves to pay for them. That marked, to a great extent, the breaking up of large estates and of private and hereditary packs. High taxes meant not only a much larger number of landowners whose good will was essential, but also a much narrower margin of profit for farmers who were therefore able to tolerate much less damage to crops. Hunt expenses, previously born by a wealthy few or by crowds of visitors, had to be redistributed among a larger number of local residents with smaller bank accounts who had to get additional help from allied activities such as race meetings, hunt balls etc. Since there was no longer the money in England to take down wire they put up jumps.

Low funds and high wages have meant fewer hunters per rider; the latter who are also doing more of their own feeding and grooming. Curiously enough these high wages have helped in this country because they have forced so much land out of cultivation and into grass. In England, on the other hand, the lack of foreign balances to buy food has put grassland into crops. Fortunately this has improved the economic position of agriculture to such an extent that, thanks largely to the training provided by the Pony Clubs during the last thirty years, British farmers have now become the backbone of hunting.

There remains one implacable enemy—the encroachment of the subdivider and builder on our hunting countries. Anthropologists tell us that what distinguishes Homo Sapiens from other living species is not so much his intelligence as his adaptability. On this basis the foxhunter deserves a particularly high rank in the human hierarchy. Fortunately he is closely followed in this respect by the red fox which seems to take to suburban life better than almost all other wild animals.

No hunt in America illustrates more admirably the ability of foxhunting to adapt itself to city encroachments than the Meadow Brook on Long Island. For the last twenty years everyone has shaken their heads and predicted that this would be its last season. Parkways, super-highways, solid lines of speeding cars, scent-destroying gasoline fumes and the inexorable outward push of New York, spear-headed by the enterprising of Mr. Leavitt of Leavitt Town, have cut down the available country year by year, to say nothing of a seemingly impossible landowner problem. Nevertheless, thanks to capable and dedicated Masters and Committees, a splendid pack of hounds and two remarkable huntsmen, Tom Allison and Charley Plumb, they have carried on, in the very best traditions of the sport.

Some day the foxhounds will have to be turned into a drag pack; someday all hunting will have to be abandoned. Nevertheless then, as well as now, the Meadow Brook will stand for all of

Snowden Carter

(Editor's Note: Raleigh Burroughs is on vacation, and the racing scene has been very capably covered by Snowden Carter.)

It was Max Hirsch who lost Stymie for $1,500 in a claiming race and now along comes Frank Bonsal with the admission that he lost Lavender Hill for $8,000. Lavender Hill may not be a Stymie, but she's doing quite all right with a 1954 bankroll of $118,505 following her impressive score at Belmont Tuesday in the $50,000 Ladies Handicap.

Asked about the 5-year-old mare at Laurel the other day, Downey Bonsal had this to say:

"I bought the mare at Saratoga as a yearling. The price was right around $2,000; I just don't remember exactly. She won as a 2-year-old and was a nice sort of filly except that she wasn't sound. Late in her 3-year-old season I ran her at Bowie over that new track they were having so much trouble with. She must have stepped in a hole or something—anyway, she broke down.

"So I brought her home and turned her out for a long rest. While she was galloping around a pasture, she stepped in another hole and then we had to patch her up all over again. The veterinarians said after that that she'd never stand training for very long. We didn't get her back to the races until the Atlantic City meeting last year and because she was so unsound we dropped her in an $8,000 claimer. Well, first crack out of the box, Mrs. (Charles) Silver claimed her off me.

"Frankly, I was sort of happy about it. I thought she had been well sold. I was sure she'd break down for good after another race or two. But she didn't and I kept watching her form. Then one day this past winter they put her in a $10,000 claimer in Florida. I made up my mind to claim her back and even wrote out the claim slip. But then I went down to the paddock to look at her, and she was so sore I decided it was too risky a gamble. So I tore up the claim slip, and after that she really got good."

It all may just prove that the smartest trainer can get fooled by a horse, but Mrs. Bonsal has her own theory. Said this horsewoman: "To my mind, it shows that you should never give up on a horse that has class."

And class, all will agree, is something that goes with Lavender Hill.

furlongs, all ages (October 11). Joe Jones had run second to Pet Bully in the one-mile Woodward Stakes just nine days before while carrying 111 pounds to the Bully's 126. In the Vosburgh, however, Racing Secretary Jimmy Kilroe burdened Pet Bully with 134 and moved Joe Jones to 116.

Perhaps the weights weren't the deciding factor, but Joe Jones, owned by Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs, found quickly enough that he could handle his burden drawing away. Over a fast track, he went the distance in 1:23½ and held a two-length margin over Pet Bully at the finish. Twelve sprinters competed and Joe Jones came from eleventh position under the old come-from-behind jockey Conn McCreary. The gelded son of Stymie and Moon Maiden earned $17,800, boosting his 1954 bankroll to $78,575. He was bred by the Bieber-Jacobs stable, is trained by Hirsch Jacobs, and, at 4 years of age, should have several good years still in his system.

Ladies Handicap, 84th running, 1½ miles, fillies and mares, 3-year-olds and up (October 12). After finishing twelfth in the one-mile Maskette Handicap just eight days before, Lavender Hill came back with a vengeance in Belmont's $50,000 classic. The chestnut 5-year-old daughter of Flushing 2d held a length and a half margin over Ming Yellow at the finish after uncorking a spectacular stretch run. Absolutely last in the 15-horse field after one mile, and tenth just two furlongs from the finish, she ran over her opposition with Stanley Small doing the steering. Leading contender now for filly and mare championship of the 1954 season, Lavender Hill is trained by Tom W. Kelly and by gaining a winner's check of $43,400 now has a 1954 earnings total of $118,505.

Jockey Club Gold Cup, 36th running, 2 miles, 3-year-olds and up (October 16). Taking a long step toward his goal as top 3-year-old of the season, High Gun led every foot of the two-mile journey to defeat six rivals in the Gold Cup. Never menaced, never touched by the whip of Eddie Arcaro, High Gun gained his third consecutive stakes victory as 1-2 favorite with the crowd of 38,229. Winner of the Belmont Stakes last June, High Gun, a son of Heliopolis and Rocket Gun, boosted his 1954 earnings to $314,550 to take the lead in money won by American horses this year. Trainer Max Hirsch had the colt eligible for the $20,000 Turf Cup Handicap at Laurel on the same afternoon, but passed up the Maryland race in favor of the richer New York prize. But Marylanders were due to see him next. According to Hirsch, High Gun will make his next stakes appearance in the $65,000 Washington (D. C.) International at Laurel on November 3. The Gold Cup carried a gross value of $82,250 with first money of $55,150 going to the King Ranch coffers of Robert Kleberg. Bred in partnership by K. M. Little, W. P. Little and C. C. Boshamer, High Gun was bought by King Ranch in the 1952 Keeneland yearling sales for $10,200.

Champagne Stakes, 84th running, 1 mile, 2-year-olds (October 16). Flying Fury had graduated from maiden ranks only seven days before and the public let the Cain Hoy Stable colt go off at 17-1. It was his first race at a distance greater than seven furlongs, and, as things developed, he was going strong when the others were stopping. A son of the sensational Irish imported stallion Nasrullah and out of the Reaping Reward mare Sicily, Flying Fury may well pick up for Cain Hoy where Dark Star left off. The colt held a half-length margin over Grandpaw, his closest rival and the public's 6-5 choice. He was timed in 1:37½ over a fast track. Listed as breeder was the Blenheim Farms. With first money of $24,700 to his credit, Flying Fury now boasts a $27,700 bank account.

ROSE TREE'S 95th ANNUAL AUTUMN MEETING

Hurricane Hazel Fails To Deter Sport As W. R. Tayloe's *High Road Wins Featured Foxcatcher Plate

Chris Wood, Jr.

Although Hurricane Hazel played havoc with the area during the late hours of Friday evening, it did not deter the Rose Tree Fox Hunting Club from holding its 95th annual autumn race meeting on Saturday, October 16. The picturesque club and course near Media, Pa., missed none of the brunt of the driving storm and the locality suffered untold damage. The new canvas covering on the grandstand was blown to shreds and the course was littered on the morning of the races. Trees and branches were down on many roads of ingress, hampering the arrivals of spectators and both human and equine participants in the day of sport.

However, despite the difficulties, the bugle for the first call to post was blown just 15 minutes after the set time of 2:00 P. M., and the 95th consecutive fall race meeting of the Rose Tree Fox Hunting club got under way. Clear and crisp weather greeted a gathering of 3500 for the opening number and by the time the third race rolled around, this number was increased by 1500 more persons, which filled the roof-less grandstand.

Six races were carded and owner C. Mahlon Kline, Ambler, Pa., was on hand to see his color-bearers scamper off with first honors in three of the events. Trainer Morris H. Dixon, Newtown Square, Pa., also added to his silverware collection by saddling the victorious trio.

The gale of Friday evening must have had a soothing effect on *High Road, as this 'chaser found little trouble in turning back some stout contenders to annex the featured Foxcatcher Plate. Ably handled by Elwood Carter and making an initial appearance in the silks of owner-trainer W. Randolph Tayloe, Berryville, Va., the 9-year-old gelding fenced nicely and led throughout to capture the coveted trophy. Besting Mrs. M. G. Walsh's Crag over the first fence, *High Road shook off repeated bids. On approaching the 9th jump, Crag dropped back as his stablemate, Rythminhim, challenged. The latter lacked his usual finish drive and fell back when unable to cope with the eventual winner, leaving Crag to come on and get secondary honors.

As the field went under the wire, it was *High Road by a handy 3 lengths, with the Walsh entry of Crag and Rythminhim finishing as named in the leader's wake. Others to complete the 2 miles and 12 brush jumps were: Irl A. Daffin's *Coit, Harry S. Nichols' Ginny Bug and C. Mahlon Kline's *Spleen. J. D. McCaffrey's Brimful started, but lost jockey Edward Deveau when he plowed through the 11th obstacle. The winner covered the firm course in 3:38½.

Mr. Kline's skein of victories started in the W. Plunket Stewart Memorial Challenge Cup, when Flaw, a recent winner over hurdles, scored his first victory over brush. Cleverly handled by F. D. "Dooley" Adams, the 5-year-old Whirlaway—Damaged Goods gelding was rated second until approaching the 12th and final jump. When called upon, he easily displaced the front-running Maratel to win by 5 lengths. Golden Magic, an invader from Canada, finished third and last. Magic Price, the only other starter bolted from the course after leading over the 3rd jump.

In capturing the Riddle Cup, a 1 mile turf test, St. Vince became the second of Mr. Kline's trio to show in front. Ridden by Harold Rulon, St. Vince furnished early contention for his front-running stablemate, Point Rhodes. On entering the turn on the ¾'s mark, Harry S. Nichols' *Auroch slipped from 4th position into leadership. In tight quarters on the turn the latter dropped back to second position in the uphill run for home with St. Vince showing the way. The pair finished in this manner, with *Auroch closing strongly, under Pat Murphy. Bellevue Farm's Hermitage gained the show award. Point Rhodes, the early pacesetter, stopped to a walk in the stretch and finished 11th in the field of 13.

The final in Mr. Kline's trio of victories was brought off in the Autumn Stayers' Plate, a 1½ mile event over the turf. Fresh from a win over hurdles at Belmont Park, Good Cards turned back 6 contenders to give F. D. "Dooley" Adams his second score for the afternoon. Rated second until the uphill stretch run, Adams and his mount permitted Gun Smoke, a portion of the Kline entry, to set the pace. When called upon, Good Cards found little trouble in besting his contention. Watch Dog, another member of the Kline triple-threat, finished 2nd, with Mrs. M. G. Walsh's *Fermoy's Mary picking up the show money. Gun Smoke the early pacesetter finished 4th.

Always close but never a winner, George T. Weymouth's Flash B., finally shook off the jinx and turned back some top competition to win the Rose Tree Hunter Challenge Cup. Ridden, as usual, by the owner's son, Eugene, Flash B., was rated 3rd for almost all of the 3 mile trip over 21 timber fences. When called upon in the final stages, the pair got to the front of Melvin Fernal and *Gold Tar, the pace-setters. However, Flash B., could not open up a commanding lead and when he ducked to the grandstand side after jumping the final fence, he lost his advantage. When straightened out by amateur rider Weymouth, he quickly shot to the front again and won by 2½ lengths. *Gold Tar bested the fast-closing Starboard, under amateur rider Stokes Lott, by 8 lengths.

Mrs. M. G. Walsh's favored *Erin's Cottage showed speed for a few early fences and dropped back to finish 5th in the field of 9 starters. Mrs. George P. Greenhaigh, Jr.'s Dancing Deacon, making his first appearance over timber, got to the 4th fence and deposited Carlyle Cameron on the earth when he hit it hard. The veteran timber rider D. M. "Mike" Smithwick, did not get that far. His mount, Mrs. J. M. Ce-ballos' Laddie Boy, smashed into the 3rd fence and came down. Neither rider was injured.

'Wood Fences Make Good Neighbors'

New Jersey Racing News

New Jersey owners and breeders continued to enjoy considerable success at the recent Atlantic City meet. George Howell's Punkin Vine maintained his winning ways with his victory in the Ventnor Handicap on August 21. William G. Helis, Jr. brought his midwestern stakes winner Helioscope East to take the Olympic Handicap October 2 with a purse of $19,575 going to the winner.

Blue Sparkler, Woodland Farms' outstanding 2-year-old won her third straight race by taking the Home Bred Handicap in 1:09½, beating Sorceress, winner of a division of the Polly Drummond Stakes, and S. E. Clark's Decimal, another good winner who was brought down from New York for the Home Bred. It was unfortunate that Bunny's Babe, the New Jersey Futurity winner, was unable to run in the Home Bred. It was reported that he had been cut down at New York in the Cowdin Stakes where he ran third to Summer Tan and Nashua.

Landlocked, owned by James Cox Brady, seemed to come back to top form taking the Atlantic City Turf Handicap on September 6. Landlocked won three out of 17 starts in 1953, earning a total of $88,000, and has four out of 11 starts in 1954, including the Widener Handicap at Hialeah, but his best effort since that time has been an allowance race which he won at Monmouth Park July 5.

The training honors at Atlantic City were tied with J. B. Bond and the New Jersey trainer, E. W. King, each saddling 14 winners. Among the list of leading money-winning owners here in the State were J. L. McKnight, W. G. Helis, Jr., and George S. Howell.

Perhaps one of the most significant events in N. J. was the successful staging of the first Yearling Sales to be held at Garden State Park. For those interested in statistics, it is interesting to note that $77,150 of the sale total of $215,754 was spent by Jerseyites, proving once again that New Jersey presents an outstanding market place for commercial breeders.

The F. W. Armstrong, Jr.'s Larry A., who chalked up 4 wins and a second at the recent Monmouth meeting did not make the Winners Circle at Atlantic City, but he came right back on opening day at Garden State and won the eighth race paying $13.40. — A. E. James

New Racing Enthusiasts

Walter Wessman, who, with his wife, Anne, recently acquired some top Thoroughbreds from Bud Burmester, and plans on racing a small unit next year, is hard at work trying to devise a set of racing colors. The new silks will embrace green and white, for the Old Chisholm Trail Stable, nom de course for the new Texas-owned establishment.

Wessman also is rushing to completion a new ¾ training track, and is using quite a bit of aluminum on the job.

Wessman, an inventor of note, too, having contributed some of the recent additions to oil well and oil drilling equipment, maintains a well appointed shop on his W W Ranch here. He runs a good herd of beef Brahma cattle, and his place is located right on the site of the original start for the Chisholm trail drivers in the old days. Incidentally, Lampasas is regarded as one of the finest parts of Texas for raising horses.

STUD

Alerted

Bay 1948, by Bull Lea—Hastily Yours
by John P. Grier

STAKES WINNER OF 20 RACES AND $440,485

The Iron Horse has been retired to stud after a racing career in which he started 104 times—and earned part of the purse 67 times. He started sound . . . raced sound . . . and he is retiring sound. A horse whose name is a synonym for versatility, Alerted, could win at any distance from the six furlong Laurel Stakes to the mile and three-quarter Saratoga Cup. He could pack the weight and run on any kind of track — in the President's Plate Handicap at 1 1/4 miles, he carried his top weight of 129 pounds through the mud to victory giving 16 pounds to the second horse and at least 15 to every horse in the field. He won 9 other stakes besides the 3 already mentioned as well as such feature events as the Preakness Prep and Fountain of Youth Handicap—and his specialty (if such a word can be used for a horse who was an all-around performer) and was the popular "American" distance, between a mile and a mile and a quarter.

Alerted defeated Battlefield in the Discovery Handicap; Hall of Fame and Counterpoint in the Jerome; County Delight in the Dixie; Crafty Admiral and Mameluke in the Healey; General Staff in the Olympic Stakes; One Hitter in the Saratoga Handicap—and he also met and defeated such performers as *Royal Vale, Spartan Valor, Oil Capitol, Greek Ship, Auditing, To Market, Quiet Step, Cold Command, Big Stretch, Uncle Miltie, Moonrush, Aunt Jinny, Grecian Queen, Cyclotron and Pomace.

A CALUMET BRED SON OF BULL LEA

Being a son of Bull Lea is almost enough in itself to qualify a horse for stud duty, for Bull Lea has led the American sire list five times in the past seven years—and has been first or second since 1946. He is the only sire in history with four "million dollar seasons" and is sire of the world's leading money-winning horse, mare and gelding—Citation, Bewitch and Armed.

Alerted's female line is just as imposing as his male. His dam, Hastily Yours, has produced 10 foals of racing age. 9 started and all won including F. B. Eye (26 wins and $72,985, placed in 4 stakes), Eagle Speed ($36,980) and Lickety Cut ($35,835). She is full sister to stakes producer Rash Hurry (dam of Hurriette) and half-sister to CAVALCADE, champion three-year-old of 1934 who won the Kentucky Derby, American Derby, Arlington Classic, Detroit Derby, Chesapeake Stakes, Hyde Park Stakes etc. Cavalcade won his championship in less than three months, starting 7 times and winning 6 at 3. His only loss was a second by a nose to his stablemate in the Preakness (Discovery third) and he also defeated Discovery in the Kentucky Derby (by 2 1/2 lengths), American Derby (by 2 lengths, giving him 8 pounds), Classic (by 4 lengths giving him 5 pounds), Chesapeake Stakes (giving him 5 pounds) and Detroit Derby (giving him 7 pounds).

News From the Studs

KENTUCKY Nashua's Dam

Segula, stakes-placed dam of Belair Stud's recent Belmont Futurity winner Nashua, is now in foal to *Ambiorix at A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, Paris, where the Belair breeding stock is boarded. The expected foal will be the first since Nashua for the half sister, by Johnstown, to the English stakes winner and stakes producer Booklet. Segula is booked back to *Nasrullah, Nashua's sire.

King Ranch's Consignment

Robert J. Kleberg Jr.'s King Ranch Farm, Lexington, will sell eight yearlings and a group of brood mares at the Keeneland Fall Sales.

Among the yearlings are two Brazado colts; sons of Curandero, Free France and On the Mark; and fillies by Beau Max, Better Self and Bold Venture. The Free France colt is a full brother to the stakes-placed Resistance.

The mares include two by Bold Venture; and others by Brazado, Depth Charge, Johnstown and Man o' War.

Pet Bully to Enter Stud

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rice's $344,812 earner Pet Bully will be syndicated and retired to stud next spring under the management of Olin Gentry, Manager of the Rices' Danada Farm, and Howard Reineman, owner of Crown Crest Farm. At which of these two Lexington establishments the six-year-old half brother, by Petrose, to the stakes-placed Blue Helen will stand has not been announced.

The home-bred Pet Bully won one of six starts at two and was beaten less than a length by Battlefield in the Anticipation Purse, the Futurity preliminary. But the Rice racer came out of that contest with broken bones in both front feet. Returning to the races as a four-year-old, he took the Washington's Birthday Handicap and seven other races in 16 efforts that season. Last year he accounted for the Phoenix, Hollywood Premier, Lakes and Flowers and Inglewood Handicaps. This season his eight victories in a dozen trips to the post have included the Valley Forge, Wilmington, Washington Park and Fall Highweight Handicaps, and Woodward Stakes. Pet Bully has a strong chance to cope the year's sprint championship.

Wrong Farm

This reporter got his Paris breeding farms mixed up last week in recording the retirement to stud of E. P. Rodriguez's Ed's Pride. The Errard-Car-Rou horse, winner of the 1951 Atlantic City Inaugural and World's Playground Handicaps, will stand at Carter Thornton's Threave Main Stud, not at Edwin K. Thomas' Timberlawn Farm.

Shaffer Offerings

Charles A. Kenney, Manager of Mrs. John D. Hertz's Stoner Creek Stud, Paris, is prepping three mares and two yearlings consigned to the Keeneland Fall Sales by E. E. Dale Shaffer. Mr. Kenney managed Coldstream Stud, Inc., when Mr. Shaffer owned that Lexington establishment.

The Shaffer mares are by Case Ace, Our Boots and *Priam II; and are in foal to *Djeddah, *Nirgal and *Priam II. Errard and *Heliopolis are the sires of the Shaffer weanlings.

*Talon Syndicated

*Talon, the Richard N. Ryan Estate's stallion standing at John A. Bell Jr.'s Jonabell Stables, Lexington, is being syndicated through the Cromwell Bloodstock Agency, owned by the Jonabell manager, John A. Bell III. Mr. Bell is retaining two of the 22 shares in the syndicate.

The Argentine-bred *Talon, by Pantalon-Guetaria, by Maron, won the Premio Jockey Club de la Provincia de Buenos Aires, five other races and 74,100 pesos in Argentina.

Imported to the United States as a four-year-old by Lon Copenhaver for Louis B. Mayer, *Talon was sold to Horatio A. Luro, trainer for the late Mr. Ryan. As a five and six-year-old, the Argentine gray took the All American, Merchants' and Citizens' (dead-heat with Loyal Legion), San Antonio and Santa Anita Handicaps, three other races and $270,575. He was out of the money only four times in 21 North American starts.

*Talon's first crop, now four years old, included last season's Daingerfield Handicap victor Guy and the English stakes captor Whippy.

Skipper Bill's Sister

John W. Galbreath, owner of Darby Dan Farms, Lexington, has a weanling full sister to Skipper Bill, the Errard colt who recently beat Duc de Fer in Atlantic City's $25,000-added Ocean City Handicap. The dam, Nipmenow, by *Bull Dog from the Salem Stakes winner Medid, was bred to *Noor this spring.

Mereworth Horses in Training

For the first time in many years, Mereworth Farm has horses in training. John T. Ward is prepping a two-year-old and four yearlings at Keeneland for Mrs. Walter J. Salmon's Lexington farm. But Mereworth has no intention of violating its long-standing ban on a racing stable. All five are for private sale.

The two-year-old is a *Vezzano filly. Among the yearlings are a colt and filly by *Sirte, a son of Swiv and a daughter of *Vezzano. The *Sirte miss is out of the stakes mare Sand Storm.

Bicarb's Half Sister

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Lunger's Christiana Stable has a weanling half sister, by Rosemont, to the recent New York Handicap winner Bicarb at Duval A. Headley's Manchester Farm, Lexington, where the Christiana breeding stock is boarded. The dam, Brides Biscuit, full sister to Sea Snack and half sister to Andre, is again in foal to Rosemont. Earner of over $20,000 in her own racing career, Brides Biscuit has been consigned to the Keeneland Fall Sales.

Alabama Killed by Lightning

Jack Welch's stallion Alabama was killed by lightning at his owner's Whileaway Farm, Lexington, during a violent electrical, wind and rain storm last week.

The twelve-year-old full brother to Speculation and half brother, by *Mahmoud, to Revoked won the Ral Parr Stakes, five other races and $28,095 in three racing seasons.

In four crops to race through 1953,

Don't cripple your horse

Alabama had sired 17 winners of 55 races and $157,419.

CANADA Novel Sale

Canada's biggest Thoroughbred breeder, E. P. Taylor staged a novel offering of yearlings on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 26th at the National Stud Farm, Oshawa, Ontario.

Thirty-six Canadian-foaled yearlings bred by Mr. Taylor's Windfields Farm, Willowdale, Ontario, were offered to prospective buyers with price tags on them from $4,000 to $20,000. It was not a sale in the usual sense. In fact the manner in which these colts were offered was unique in that all his Canadian foaled yearlings were put on display, each with a price tag of purchase—no more, no less—but with a stipulation that of the group a maximum of 8 colts and 4 fillies could be bought. He offered his colts in this manner to the public rather than entering any in the Canadian yearling sales, so there could be no suggestion that the best had been retained for his racing stable.

In addition to offering a limited number of colts for sale, the showing gave people an opportunity to see what Windfields farm is producing, the stallions standing at the National Stud and the facilities the stud offers to boarding mares and colts.

Visitors lined the walls of the very large arena into which the yearlings were led in groups of 8. Mr. Taylor stood in the center flanked by Gil Darlington his Thoroughbred manager and Dr. J. B. Chassels, who does all their veterinary work. As the colts were led around, Mr. Taylor's voice easily carried his remarks about each to the large crowd. He asked Dr. Chassels to speak about any with unsoundnesses or pad-dock injuries and to give his opinion on some and to outline the treatment that had been given.

The five stallions standing at the National Stud were paraded in the intermission between the first showing of the yearlings and the second. In the second showing the yearlings were brought in individually at which time anyone interested in purchasing at the listed price

SOUNDNESS AND CONFORMATION

by David G. Hogben

How often has it been said that the buying of yearlings is a gamble? And how often have you seen expensive yearlings subsequently fail to gain a place in the smallest of selling races? Have you ever wondered why apparently sane men and women bid each other up to thousands of pounds for one particular animal which may be a world champion, but on the other hand, may never see a racecourse.

In the Bloodstock Industry, a sound knowledge of breeding is essential, but however well bred an animal may be, there is no guarantee that it will emulate the performances of the Sire or Dam. There is no guarantee that because a certain animal was sired by a famous stayer, the offspring will be other than a sprinter.

The man who comes off best today is usually one who can not only assess the relative merits of bloodlines, but who can also size up the conformation of individual animals accurately and know that should the animal have any of the qualities of Sire or Dam, nothing in its action or build would hinder the reproduction of these qualities.

When the prospective buyer has considered these points, he is faced with the question of soundness. Some obtain Veterinary advice, others rely on knowledge acquired through years of experience in the handling and care of Bloodstock. There are, surprisingly, many buyers who just take a chance and bid for an animal without even seeing it prior to its entry in the sale ring.

In England today, there are several reputable Bloodstock Agencies specialising in the purchase of horses for overseas patrons and those in Great Britain who cannot attend the sales personally. These firms give a wonderful service to the prospective buyer, having at their fingertips all the necessary data regarding bloodlines, performances and even temperaments of Sires and Dams back through the years.

"Soundness and Conformation" has been adopted as the motto of the Veterinary Bloodstock Agency of Epsom. A very apt motto, because not only does this apply to the horses which this Agency handles, but also to George Forbes, the man who has contributed so much to the building up of the firm. He is the eldest son of Col. J. S. Forbes and heir presumptive to Sir John Forbes, Bart. Educated at Eton and Dublin Veterinary College, it was through spending school holidays with the late Fred Darling at Beckhampton that he became so enthusiastic about the Thoroughbred horse, and whilst in Ireland he became assistant to Mr. G. Gilpin, the trainer, who produced the famous Fanmond and Heartbreak Hill from his stud in County Meath.

After obtaining his veterinary degree, George Forbes became a Bloodstock Auctioneer and was appointed by R. J. Goff & Coy., as their representative in England in 1936. In 1941, whilst auctioning for Tattersalls, he sold Rosy Legend in foal to Nearco and carrying Dante.

He then moved to Burley Lodge at Epsom with its fine stabling accommodation, paddocks and enclosed school, and formed the Veterinary Bloodstock Agency. On the death of George Poole, he was asked by the Domara Turf Club to supply their requirements. Singapore, Australia and other countries soon followed, until now, the Veterinary Bloodstock Agency is fast becoming one of the leading organizations in great Britain.

At the last Doncaster Yearling sales, Mr. Forbes was buying on behalf of the Peruvian Jockey Club and Col. K. R. Marshall, President of the Toronto Jockey Club. He purchased four colts and fourteen fillies for 15,750 guineas and then flew to Ireland to buy three more.

How well these people chose their agent. Being a Veterinary Surgeon, he spots incipient faults in yearlings that can save a lot of money for the producer. A good judge was heard to remark that Mr. Forbes bought about the best value for money at these sales, where some appeared to go mad at times.

Woodbine Park

Figures Down—Sport Excellent, as Queen's Own Establishes Himself Top Colt

Broadview

The twenty-one day fall meeting at Woodbine Park, Toronto, was not favored very generously with good weather; the rainfall for this area having been all out of proportion for the past month. Betting for the meeting was down from last year's figures some $400,000 but as some very wet days kept all but the real die-hards away, it could be taken as a satisfactory meeting from that angle and provided some good racing too.

Canadian sports writers are starting to talk about what horse will be named Canadian Horse of the Year and even with Fred Orpen's Long Branch race track still to provide racing days well on into the end of the year and his $27,000 Canadian Championship coming up, it's going to be pretty hard to take this honor away from E. P. Taylor's Queen's Own. He won two stakes at the Woodbine meeting—the Breeders Stakes for Canadian foaled 3-year-olds at 1½ miles, and the Durham Cup at 1¼ miles. To date, that means 13 starts this year and 9 wins for the good looking chestnut son of War Jeep—Sea Reigh, by Reigh Count and earnings of $33,360.

Queen's Own has been closely tagged throughout the season by McMacken Stable's King Maple, by *Fairaris—Noon Maid, by *Soleil du Midi and has met defeat at his hooves. But King Maple has come out second best on most occasions and though these two are outstandingly the best of the Canadian 3-year-olds, there seems little question now that Queen's Own is the better horse. In both his stakes wins at Woodbine this fall the McMacken colt was second to him. King Maple won the $5,000 added Fairbank Stakes at 1¼ miles in the early part of the meeting, defeating Mrs. E. P. Taylor's Question Time, a smart filly by Polynesian, but Queen's Own was not a starter in this event.

Another star from the E. P. Taylor barn that made an appearance at Woodbine to be well backed by the fans, was Navy Page, chestnut son of War Admiral, who last year ran with the best and marked up $63,872. He has shown little this season. His first start at the Woodbine meeting was on September 15th in the Autumn Handicap for 3-year-olds and up at 1½ miles, but Sol Rotenberg's Sampan, a very much improved horse this season won the $5,000 added event in heavy going over Bill Beasley's Try On.

Sampan was again entered ten days later for the $10,000 added Jockey Club Cup Handicap at 1¼ miles but finished second to Johnny Starr's Unbranded, a 3-year-old by Unbreakable. Unbranded's success was a great surprise to all but owner-trainer Starr, as he came in at a big price and most thought Starr was shooting too high when he passed up a good race for the colt the day before to shoot for the Cup, against the top horses on the Canadian circuit.

The track record for 1¼ miles at Woodbine was broken on September 10, when the new record of 1:43 was hung up by *Arson, owned by Tyson Gilpin, of Boyce, Virginia. This is an imported Italian 5-year-old bay horse by Macherio —Aubergine, by Sandwich brought into Ontario by Malcolm Richardson. On the 20th, he won again in an allowance event at the same distance beating Blue Scooter and Navy Page.

Highlight of the meeting for the fillies was the Maple Leaf Stakes, $5,000 added, for 3 and 4-year-olds, Canadian-foaled fillies at 1¼ miles. E. P. Taylor's distinctive pale blue silks flashed to the fore in this one, carried by June Brook by Brookfield—June Bee, by Jean Valjean. Jim Fair's Setator finished 2nd but was put back to third for interfering with Freeboard which was awarded the place money.

Mrs. Taylor's 2-year-old half-sister to the above, by the French *Tournoi (his first crop of racing age) would appear to be a pretty smart trick too, but she just missed joining the stakes ranks in that she ran second in the Princess Elizabeth Stakes for 2-year-old fillies at 6 furlongs to Frowde Seagram's Teddikin, and second again in the feature for 2-year-olds at the meeting, the Coronation Stakes, at 1 mile and 70 yards with $10,000 added money. The Coronation was won by Baffin Bay, a home-bred of the Luxiana Stable, being by Porter's Cap. The Grauls, father R. Y. and son Bill whose Luxiana Health Ranch at Vercheres is the largest Thoroughbred breeding farm in the province of Quebec were naturally more than elated. This race was run on September 18th, and the next evening Baffin Bay, with scores of other horses, was madly dashing all over the grounds having been released from her stall in one of the burning barns at the terrible Woodbine fire. In getting the Coronation winner out the Grauls were not so fortunate with another 2-year-old, Mount Royal, which they prized even more highly. This one was lost in the fire.

The last 2-year-old stakes at the meeting was the Grey Stakes, $5,000 added, at a mile and 70 yards, and a new track mark for the race was established in 1:43½, by Jack Stafford's Senator Jim, which bested Car Hatch's highly regarded Mr. Brief. The Stafford Farm would seem to have some real juvenile

The Clubhouse Turn

December Deadline

W. T. Bishop, Manager of Keeneland, hopes to have the new training track ready by December 1. Top-soil application on the five-furlong oval was begun a couple of weeks ago. Sand must still be added to the future running surface, and the rails remain to be built.

Mechanical Timing To Be Introduced

A new method of mechanical timing is to be introduced at some Irish tracks, soon. It will be done with photographing clocks. The instant the tapes go up, the clock face is photographed, and when the runner passes the finish line another clock is photographed. That's the theory. Not all Irish racing men are being sold on the idea, in a country where the time test is not taken very seriously, due to the vast differences the varying weather conditions and winds can make to the surface and sub-soil of the grass tracks. Also, the time recorded here is no indication of true form, due to the slow pace set in most of the longer races. A good example of this is the slow time, 3.10.6, returned by Never Say Die, runaway winner of the St. Leger. Average time was 3.9! So don't pay too much attention to times here, except in true-run races, with all the other factors, just right.

Dr. Bardwell Returns

Royal Note Back Home

Wilton Stable's brilliant two-year-old Royal Note has been returned to the Lexington farm of his owners-breeders, Tilford L. Wilson and Carl T. Houston, for rest and treatment of injuries received in the Washington Park Futurity. The half brother, by Spy Song, to Phar Mon, Great Dream and Royal Mustang hurt a knee in that race; and will not start again this season.

Royal Note won his first six races, including the Lafayette, Bashford Manor, Cherry Hill and Dover Stakes, and Arlington Futurity. Then he lost the Sapling Stakes to Royal Coinage by less than a length through the slop. The Washington Park Futurity was the eighth start of a campaign that netted Royal Note $152,237. —Frank Talmadge Phelps

Dr. Harthill Obtains Injunction

Dr. Alex Harthill, Louisville veterinarian who was suspended for 60 days by the Illinois Racing Board for failure to report his treatment of "Mister Black before the Grassland Handicap—"Mister Black was disqualified from first place on a stimulation finding—, has obtained a temporary court injunction suspending the suspension until a hearing can be held. Dr. Harthill apparently plans to base his defense on the contention that the section of the Illinois Racing Code requiring reports of veterinary treatment violates the confidential relationship between veterinarian and owner or trainer. —F. T. P.

Stud Managers Course Planned

The fourth annual Stud Managers Course, sponsored by the Grayson Foundation and the American Thoroughbred Breeders Association, will be held in Lexington November 3-5, immediately following the Keeneland Fall Sales. The course has been shortened to three days this year instead of the previous five days, so that attendance will not require such a long absence from regular duties.

Opening session on November 3 will be a dinner meeting held at the Lafayette Hotel, with Ivor Balding, Manager of the C. V. Whitney Farm, as speaker.

Other sessions will be held at the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky. The scheduled topics and speakers are:

November 5—virus abortion, Dr. E. R. Doll; the breeding season, Dr. William Caslick; endocrine system of the horse, Dr. Victor Berliner; equine surgery, Dr. L. E. Johnson. —F. T. P.

Silks In Action

Danny Perlswieg, the Philadelphia jockey turned owner-trainer, will have his silks in action during the final 25 racing days of the year at Garden State Park. Perlswieg owns Dandy Dan, and conditions Esteeco for L. Berman.

State Small—Receipts Large

The State of Delaware may be small, but its receipts from Thoroughbred racing are large. In 17 racing seasons, Delaware Park, the State's only Thoroughbred track, has returned $14,477,242.82 to the State via taxes.

One Race

Gainsboro Girl, the leading money-winning Thoroughbred of Delaware Park's meeting this season, won but one race in garnering her crown. The four-year-old daughter of Bernborough earned $101,800 by capturing the $138,400 New Castle Handicap, world's richest race for fillies and mares.

One Day Record

A new one day record for gross distribution was established at Delaware Park during its 1954 Thoroughbred race meeting. The record, $165,400, was set on July 5, the closing day of the meeting, when the $100,000 added New Castle Handicap, world's richest race for fillies and mares, was renewed for the 16th year.

Pari-Mutuel Vending Machines

Impatient $2.00 bettors at the race tracks may not have to stand in long slow moving lines in the future. They will not have to worry about the possibility of being shortchanged, given wrong numbered tickets or locked out of a

Clark Named TCA HONOREE

F. Ambrose Clark, of Westbury, N. Y. has been named the honor guest at the Thoroughbred Club of America's annual testimonial dinner on October 21 at Keeneland.

Mr. Clark has spent 53 of his 73 years in close association with horses, as amateur rider, trainer, owner and breeder.

In the early years of this century he was an internationally known rider, competing on an equal footing and with outstanding boldness against the best professional jockeys of the United States, Ireland, England and France. He rode in the first steeplechase ever held at Belmont Park. His first stakes winner was Jim Megibben, winner of the 1902 International Steeplechase Handicap. Mr. Clark also owned Keelsboro Jack, victor in the 1933 English Grand National; but sold that lepper before the race to his wife, a noted sportswoman in her own right.

Always interested in the sporting side of racing, Mr. Clark has probably done as much as any single man to preserve and maintain steeplechase and hunt contests.

During the racing blackout in World War I, he staged the Meadow Brook Cup, later continued as the Meadow Brook Steeplechase Handicap, at his Westbury estate, Meadow Brook House. Since he barred automobiles from the grounds, guests had to ride horseback or walk to the race. As Honorary Chairman of the co-ordinating committee on racing through the field in 1946, he is credited with the suggestion that resulted in the re-designing of the jumping courses then in use.

One of the few drivers of a coach-and-four still extant, Mr. Clark owns an extensive and nearly priceless collection of sporting prints and paintings. He has been a member of The Jockey Club since 1919, and is also a member of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association.

Jumping Prospect

Emory Cantey, young lawyer-sportsman-hunting enthusiast, apparently made a nice deal for himself when he got Ruego 3, by Royal Answer—Magdala by Identify from the Reynolds Bros.

Not quite fast enough to win at racing, the young miss has shown enough aptitude fencing to warrant Cantey devoting a lot of time to her career. Already the proud owner has declined highly attractive offers for his new possession.

Adams Reaching Goal

Johnny Adams could become the fourth jockey in American history to ride 3000 winners this coming season at Hialeah. Adams, who will ride contract here for Hasty House Farm, needs only a few over 100 victories to enter the charmed realm of Johnny Longden, Eddie Arcaro and Ted Atkinson.

Jockey Started Big

Jockey Sammy Boulmetis, leading rider at Hialeah in 1954, has no trouble recalling his big racing thrill. The first winner he ever rode, appropriately named Stepintheadark, set up a daily double which paid $3,015.40.

Bernford won an Allowance race on September 24th, his 3rd victory in 6 outings, and when racing was concluded at Woodbine, and moved on to Long Branch, this colt won the Golden Spoon with Senator Jim in the third slot. He'll be running for the Cup and Saucer and right now looks to be favorite, although Jim Fair has a fast colt in Fairator, by Vitrator, which picked up his third victory at Woodbine, but was out of the Coronation when the payments for the colt was neglected.

Leading rider at the Woodbine oval was Ted Johnson with 23 winners, Alex Wick, proving to be a very sharp lad in booting them home, with 17, and veteran Pat Remilard, had 16 winners.

Next season is supposed to be the last for beautiful historic Woodbine. In 1956 Woodbine, on the shores of Lake Ontario in the near heart of the city, will move to a new location near Marlton close to the airport that serves the city of Toronto.

Mrs. John H. Paulk's Miss Cri Champion at Plum Creek Trials

The ninth annual Plum Creek Hunter Trials were held a few weeks earlier than usual this year to take advantage of the longer days and to give some of the older children, off to school the next week, a chance to participate. The weather was a little warm for the riders but perfect for the spectators watching the mile long courses over the fields from atop an adjacent hill, and as is the custom at Plum Creek, barbecue lunch was served at noon to all the spectators, exhibitors and ranch people from up and down lovely Perry Park valley, who come for the event.

New jumps and courses added greatly to the interest of the show and the handy hunter class in particular had a course which looked like fun to ride, definitely required a handy horse and yet was not full of those freak turns and twists and gimmicks so often asked of handy hunters.

The big wooden gate on the course caused considerable trouble to some riders but Arapahoe Hunt's whipper-in Marvin Beeman who rode Arickeree didn't waste any more time there than he did barreling down the lane in one of the smoothest and fastest handy hunter rides seen hereabouts. On Princess, he won the Plum Creek Cup over the longest course and stiffest jumps in the show. The crop of green hunters looked promising for the coming season with the blue going to Mrs. Francis W. MacVeagh's Respect over a good field, and Susan Baker's Dark Secret which had put in two other good rounds, finally placed with a blue in the Children's Hunters. Mrs. John Paulk's lovely Plum Creek mare Miss Cri won the Owner-Rider class and tied Princess for the highest points in the show and by winning a jump off, was awarded the J. G. Holland Perpetual Trophy.

Bloomfield Open Hunt Holds Hunter Trials; "Fun For Everyone"

That grass on the other side of the fence sometimes looks as good to riders as it does to horses. They wouldn't exchange their hunting or cross country riding for any show, but they do dream a little wistfully of competition geared to the average hunter.

That sort of competition was given the riders at Bloomfield Open Hunt on Sunday, Oct. 3 at the club's first hunter trials in two years.

For hill-toppers, there was a hunter hack class. No jumping, but each rider had to open and close a gate.

The brown jug that in the past has gone to the winner of the class for riders over 40 was saved for a special "Fox Hunters Class." Master Thomas E. Wilson lead the entrants over the rolling course, riding as they would in the field—checking suddenly, jumping one fence, walking, galloping, trotting.

Cherry Mint's good manners won the jug for Mrs. B. F. Ziessow.

Before the afternoon classes, Mr. Wilson, Huntsman Arthur Kirby and the staff took the hounds over the outside course in a demonstration ride.

After the show championship trophy and ribbon had been presented to Mr. Wilson for his hunter Weidpish and the reserve to Marie Lindquist's Clover Mint, there was solid agreement among riders and spectators: "This is the best kind of show—small and fun for everyone."

OAK BROOK HOUNDS

R. D. 2, Hinsdale,
Illinois.

Established 1944.
Recognized 1948.

Cubbing started with 20½ couples of good looking hounds. Also, there are six big Red Bone puppies that may get a chance before the season is over. We expect to average about eighteen couples in the hunting pack this year.

Hound exercise, on a regular six-day per week schedule, started June 19, with the Staff mounted. Also, we have had from four to ten members of the Field out for that 6:45 A. M. jaunt with the hound pack. Since the start of Cub Hunting three mornings a week at 5:30, hounds have been roamed only one morning a week.

Our first Cub Hunt, August 17, gave promise of a good season. It started with an early view of a big red, which gave us a good run on the Healy Farms, finally eluding hounds in a big field of tall corn; the morning was flavored by two interludes with skunks, and an encounter with a racoon which was second best in the fight before hounds could be whipped off. In spite of a cloudy, muddy morning, there were fifteen riders out for the 5:30 A. M. start.

New members of the Oak Brook Hounds are: Mrs. Ellis G. (Joyce) Bohon of Glencoe; Miss Janet Carmichael of Chicago; Mrs. D. M. (Erwina) Cornwell of Glencoe; Mr. Richard C. Evans of Hinsdale—back after a few years' absence due to a broken neck, university, and a hitch in the Army; Mr. Martin E. Mulac of Hinsdale; Mrs. J. L. (Diana) Fordon of Hinsdale—back after a period of too many other activities.

The "Honor Roll" of the ten high members, except staff, for number of times out with hounds through August 31, is as follows:

Mrs. Henry J. (Miriam) Stephens, Martin E. Mulac, William Allbright, Wade Smith, Frank Erskine, Richard Evans, Meryl Stephens, John Heath, Marcia Mohlman, and Mrs. Ted (Vivian) Bachmann, Jr.

William Allbright, after being out regularly exercising hounds, was grounded by an appendectomy. He has followed the last two cub hunts in his car and expects to be in the saddle next week. Bill is now on the Staff as whipper-in in training.

Cover Painting, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Rice Hunting With Myopia

History in the making is the substance of this painting by John G. Wolcott. The history is sporting, family, and architectural.

In the foreground are Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Rice hunting with the Myopia at Hamilton, Mass. "C. G.", as he is called by family and friends, is honorary whipper-in and sometimes substitutes for the Master, Frederic Winthrop. "C. G." and Lily (Mrs. C. G.) make an excellent appearance at horse shows and, with their children, win many ribbons. Mr. Rice likes a spirited horse and handles one well.

Their house, in the background of the painting, was built by Mr. & Mrs. Oliver Wolcott of Hamilton. It is a beautiful house in the Georgian style, with terraces in the back, shown here, going down to the Myles River. On the front a long tree lined avenue leads to it from the road, one of the most beautiful in New England, with neighboring residences belonging to Oliver Wolcott, Francis Appleton, Francis P. Sears, Charles Summer Bird, Mary Curtis, Barrett Wendell, Harry Middendorf, and Standish Bradford. The Myopia hunting country, as lovely as the English, Irish, and French, surrounds the estate. The artist has intended to bring out the fine achievement of the community in architecture and landscaping. The country should be preserved as an example of what human genius can accomplish in civilized arts, in the building of beautiful homes in a health giving outdoor world, man at his best.

The painter, John G. Wolcott, who hunts with the Myopia, has moved recently to 908 Hale Street, Beverly Farms, five miles from Hamilton. He has the studio built by George Lee, once well known for his horses. Mr. Wolcott shows there his drawings and paintings, which besides sporting pictures of horses, birds, and dogs, includes portraits, landscapes and murals. Lately he has revived his humorous days on the Harvard Lampoon by doing burlesques on old sporting prints, a John Leech, you might say, of the American scene. He says there is nothing else like the hooray in a print.

Illinois.
Merged 1940.
Recognized 1940.

Our first hunt of the season was held on September 18th at 9 A. M. with a field of nineteen. The weather was unseasonably warm, the temperature being in the eighties, so only two lines were run. Since our professional huntsman left last year, Mr. George Wood, our Joint Master, has been huntsman and has worked hard all spring and summer with the hounds. A job not made any easier by the addition of several young inexperienced hounds to the pack, and by the absence of the regular experienced whippers-in. Mrs. Corwith Hamill, now Joint Master, and Mr. Wood both used to whip in. Away all summer and now home with a new three year old colt she is training. Mrs. Hamill has sent thirteen year old daughter Nancy to take her place. Nancy, together with

This happened to Maj Charles Kindersley M.F.H. of Eglinton who carries the horn, on Sept. 25th

Arthur Richardson of the same age, and Linda Lewis, another teenager, are fast learning the art of whipping in. Mrs. Montgomery Orr, the President of the Hunt, and another whipper-in has been away for the past two weeks.

The hounds had behaved beautifully on the first line, but unfortunately as we were walking our horses to the point where they would be cast on the second line, a black cur appeared in the middle of the road. Before our youngsters had taken in the situation, the pack was off after the unfortunate mongrel. He probably is still running, for the hounds didn't catch him and the whippers-in finally were able to get their recalcitrant charges to pack up with the few well behaved hounds who had stayed with the huntsman.

Tuesday, September 21st, at 5:30 A. M. was still pitch dark; it was very cold and the wind was howling like the start of a northeaster. The field was to meet at 6 A. M. but I must confess I caught up with them that wild gusty morning only in time for the last jump. Before I had gone to the barn to tack up my horse, my eleven year old son Tex and Susie Frey who rides our pony were out there getting their mounts ready. As Susie led her pony out of the pasture gate, Tex led his horse out of the barn and reached into the tack room to turn off the lights, his horse pulled back and Tex fell seat first into a large tub of ice cold water. His mare broke away from him and went off at a gallop through the pasture gate and up the road. Loud cries for Mother had me rushing first to the barn for a bucket of oats and then up the road after the mare. She passed me at a wild gallop, went back into the pasture and around it a couple of times before deciding to come into the stable for the oats. Tex, wet seat and all, departed, and I was left to get my own horse ready, arriving at the Club stables after everyone had left, almost committing the unforgivable sin of fouling up the line while I was trying to catch up with them. I was riding due west and the field had circled, galloping through the woods directly east towards me, with the jump and the line turning between us to the north.

I fortunately stopped within twenty feet of the jump (and the line) when I heard the hounds giving tongue, and in a few seconds they burst out of the woods directly in front of me, and making a sharp turn to the north, through the jump and into Davis' pasture, with the field in close pursuit. It was a pretty sight.

Once monthly the Hunt plans to hold a meet on a Sunday instead of Saturday, to be followed by a Hunt Breakfast at the Dunham Woods Riding Club. These breakfasts are always popular and this very old and quaint building which houses the Club, and which a hundred years ago was the headquarters of one of the largest Percheron breeding establishments in the country, must have been the gathering place during all those years for horsemen—when old horsemen get together and tongues are loosened, the laughter and the stories are not too different now than they were then, I'll wager.

Pony Club Instructors' Courses "Teaching How To Teach"

John Nestle

The main principle of the instruction given in the Pony Club Instructors' Courses is "Teaching how to Teach," as obviously, it is impossible to inculcate riding and horsemanship in a week or ten days. There are now two types of these courses, known respectively as Local Instructors' Courses and Official Instructors' Courses. The former are organized by the District Commissioners of the Pony Club for the benefit of instructors from their own and neighboring Branches.

The local courses provide those people who are willing to spare the time to instruct at rallies, an opportunity to acquire an elementary knowledge of Pony Club teaching and how to impart this who take the ride in the enclosed school. This includes exercises with and without stirrups, first on one rein, then on the other, crossing and circling the school. As a course of this kind progresses, individual members of the ride are called out to take the Instructor's place and therefore gain valuable practical experience in the art of teaching. The following general principles are particularly stressed when a novice instructor takes a ride for the first time:

(1) He takes care to place his class in a position which will enable them to hear his explanation and see his demonstration.

(2) He gives a short explanation of the

(Nestle Photo)

Mrs. Ted Lyons jumping an obstacle of the type to be found out hunting and which instructors and members of the Pony Club are encouraged to take.

knowledge successfully to the young members of the Club.

On local courses it is possible to have twice as many pupils as horses. Those who are not riding are at liberty to listen and take notes.

The official Instructors' Courses are sponsored by the Pony Club Organization Committee and details are circulated to the various branches from time to time. Candidates must be Associates of the Pony Club, this is to say, between 17 and 21 years of age, or members of the British Horse Society and must be nominated for the course by their District Commissioner. All nominations must be sent to Pony Club Headquarters.

Many of the Official Instructors' Courses are held at Porlock and some of the candidates who take part in them have bad hands and an indifferent seat, although they have been riding for years. However, much active work is done in the first two days under the instructors, exercise required of the ride and its object.

(3) He demonstrates how to perform the movement in question.

(4) The class then carries out the exercise.

(5) The instructor demonstrates the outstanding faults which he has noticed and how to correct them.

(6) The class repeats the exercise and the instructor helps each individual to correct his or her fault.

It is obviously necessary for the instructor to be mounted on a well-trained horse, on which he can give his demonstrations and explanations without having to concentrate on the animal. He should naturally prepare a detailed programme of what he intends to teach his class before attempting to take it. It must always be remembered that pupils lose interest very quickly and once interest is lost, it is difficult to recapture their concentration.

The best results are obtained if a ride is taken in a rectangular manege which has been marked out. The manege should naturally vary in size according to the number of people in the ride, but under no circumstances should it be too big. To give an example, for a class of 10 to 12, a manege should measure about 60 yards by 20 yards. The instructor taking the ride should place himself a few yards from one end, as this position will be found best for observing the class.

For teaching purposes a manege is most helpful, but it is important to remember that work in the manege is only a small part of Pony Club training. Instruction must therefore include riding in the open, over natural fences, in the way the pupils will need to ride when they go out hunting.

Colonel the Hon. Guy Cubitt, D. S. O., T. D., a horseman who has won the highest honours both in the show ring and as an amateur rider between the flags, is the present Chairman of the Pony Club. He fully realizes the importance of sound instruction and takes considerable personal interest in the Pony Club Instructors' Courses. In addition to this, he gives up much of his time to lecturing on equitation, illustrating his subject by film strips.

Colonel Cubitt emphasizes to the children that in the time available the Pony Club instructors can only hope to give sound advice which has been proved correct by the test of time. It is the right way, though not necessarily the only possible way and it is essential that the children should practice in their own time what is taught or the instruction will be wasted.

Maryland State Fair

The pony breeding divisions of the Md. State Fair were conspicuous for the quality and also quantity of ponies shown. There has seldom been, in one place, a gathering of as many high class ponies.

Tuesday the Welsh ponies were shown through to the grand champion who was pinned Liseter Etarlight, (William-Farnley Fairlight) owner and bred by Mrs. Austin DuPont of Newtown Square, Pa. This lovely grey mare was placed senior champion over George Fernley's grey stallion, Ty'r Sais Blue Marble, (Criban Pebble—Criban Blue Vision). In the younger division Mr. and Mrs. David Dallas Odell's quality yearling colt, Gwynedd colt, Gwynedd Cavalier, (Farnley Continued On Page 17 Flyer—Gretton Bountiful) was pinned junior champion and came on to beat some of the older ponies for the reserve grand championship.

Wednesday morning brought out the Shetlands. The junior champion was Olney Flamingo, a chestnut filly foal by Severn Firecracker—Olney Woodpecker exhibited by Olney Pony Farm of Joppa, Md. Susan Archer's bay filly foal, Susan's Whimsy (The Greyhound's Chief—Susan's Pretty Baby) was reserve. Among the older ponies, the senior champion was Lend Sonny Boy, a stallion owned by Mr. and Mrs. Leroy LeVan & family. The dappled son of Colonel Copper—Lady Drum Major, was also grand champion Shetland. Reserve to him in both the senior and grand championship was L. B. Gutnam's Senorita's Daughter (Silver Nevada—Senorita Garet).

The Crossbred was the largest of the pony divisions having 34 exhibitors showing anywhere from one to eleven ponies each. The majority of the winners in this division were either Va. bred or owned ponies.

Thursday afternoon the three grand champions, Welsh, Shetland, and Crossbred met to determine the best of all breeds. This coveted title went to Liseter Hall Farm's Welsh broodmare, Liseter Starlight, earlier mentioned.

The Whys Of Foxhunting

Elizabeth Ober

You should observe the following courtesy for the safety of yourself, your horse and fellow sportsmen. Look out for a possible kick from the horse in front of you and don't invite trouble by allowing your horse to browse off its tail. If you do and it kicks, hitting you or your horse, you will have paid the penalty for your mistake. But if it doesn't and your horse steps on its heels, its owner will be out of luck for a grabbed heel is slow in healing. When the person in front of you holds his hand across his back, he is warning you to stay away from his horse's heels as he considers you are riding too close to him. A red ribbon tied on the tail of a horse places the blame on the one who rides too close and gets kicked. It's a grave offense not to tie a red ribbon on a tail of a horse know to be prone to kicking. When a young horse which is an unknown quantity acts as if he is contemplating kicking, his rider can occasionally prevent his doing so, by playing with his mouth and distracting his thoughts. A horse which kicks must be punished at once by the rider bringing his whip down hard on his back while his heels are still in the air. There is no excuse for not punishing a kicker!

Helping Hand

Several years ago, open jumpers were eliminated from the Helping Hand Horse Show. This year, the conformation division was removed and a grand championship was awarded. The new award went to Miss Susan Findley's ever consistent Torn Pages ridden by Miss Althea Knickerbocker. The grey mare also accounted for the green working hunter tri-color ahead of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Haymond's Tourist Encore, ridden by Mrs. David Kelley. In addition she claimed the regular working hunter reserve award behind Mrs. Walter Wickes' Bronze Wing ridden by Miss Betty Bosley, who also won the reserve grand championship award.

In the large junior division Miss Fiona Field established an early lead with her brilliant going Penny as she won the working hunter and the corinthian working hunter.

Phyllis Field did equally well in the horsemanship division. Besides the title she won the medal and the hunting field horsemanship class in which huntsman Charles led them over the outside course backwards and even across a snow fence. The latter caused gasps from the onlooking parents but as the huntsman said, "the kids all made it didn't they?"

A junior olympic division based on the classes in the National was added and consisted of two individual performance and two team performance classes. The team class proved especially popular even though the last was held near dusk. Two teams shared the team and individual awards. Top team award went to Saddle Tree Farm team number one and top individual award went to Saddle Tree's Cynthia Stone. Reserve was the Thomas School's Team with member Linda Thomas garnering the reserve individual award.

Indiana State Fair

Due to the efforts of the newly formed Indiana Hunter-Jumper Association, the fences at the Indiana State Fair were greatly improved, and consequently the performances of the horses. It is unfortunate no jumper classes were included, since there are plenty of horses available and excellent facilities for showing at the fair. Indiana has such an immense ring that even with Jan Garber's full orchestra in the middle, the garden gate course is not at all crowded. Really a glamorous show with two spotlights and a serenade for the ribbon winners.

No points are counted for championship honors at the show, but the outstanding winner was Miss Elise Noonan's promising young Dil-Dou-Kee. The ribbons, however, were remarkably well distributed.

Jr. Equitation

The Junior Equitation School's Fall Pony and Junior Show was held at Hayfield Farm in Alexandria. For once the weather man was good to us, the entries were excellent, and a very pleasant day was had by all.

The highlight of the show was the Castell Challenge Trophy Class for advanced riders. The class was originally to be held during the June show, but was rained out and had to be held over. The entrants in this class entered the ring individually and were given instructions by the Judges. There were seven different phases to be accomplished, including efficient use of aids, smooth transitions at different gaits, figures of eight, and riding in jumping position with folded arms. Each phase had a score of 10, with a total of 70 possible. The winner of this class was Miss Gretchen Shiltz with a score of 68, or almost perfect. Next with a score of 66 was Miss Sara Willis, and 3rd with a 63 was Miss Rebecca Ashley. Mr. and Mrs. William Castell presented the lovely silver bowl, and a smaller replica to Miss Shiltz.

One accident mared an otherwise perfect day. In the Jr. Green Conformation Hunter Miss Allison Duffy and her Cravelley came a cropper, and Allison had to be taken in to George Washington to have her lip sutured. Even with this mishap Cravelley was tied for Championship with Fen Kollacks' Swamp Girl in the Jr. green division. Due to the absence of Miss Duffy the honors went to Swamp Girl with 7½ points, with Cravelley in the Reserve position.

Kempsville

Hurricane Edna furnished the blues for the Kempsville Woman's Club, but not the kind desired at a Horse Show. Her gusty arrival on Friday caused the entire schedule of 15 classes to be postponed until the next day. With already a full day and night program listed, the final class ran into the wee hours of the morning, in spite of the cancellation of the unfilled conformation division.

Another hurricane hit on Saturday in the form of one 4-year-old gelding, Pugilistic, who brought the right kind of blues to his owner-ridden, Miss Betty Beryl Schenk. His capture of six firsts and three thirds was enough to merit both the green conformation and green working hunter crowns.

Lake Washington

This show had been planned for the State Bridle Trail's out door arena, but the weatherman decided differently. Just as the show was about to commence the rain came down in a fashion unusual even for Washington.

Everything was quickly packed up and a caravan of cars, trailers, horses and people moved a quarter of a mile to a covered arena. By two o'clock a new tan bark had been laid and everything was ready for the show. The following day was very pleasant, but it was decided to hold the show inside again. Bimbo with Janet Huston up won the open jumping class. Rayhak's Rahwan continued his conquest of the hunter classes by winning the blue in the limit hunter.

Ludwigs

A warm day brought out so many horses for the 11th annual Ludwig's Cornor Horse Show that it was dark when the last horse was pinned and the ring cleared. Breeding classes led off the day in a small ring—while the child-jumper decided it was time to stop and pulled up. Still undecided on a winner the judge had two three foot fences set up.

Most of the contestants managed to get over them until Jiggs Baldwin decided to add to the excitement. He entered the ring on Tarad with an unknown young lady sitting on his shoulders. After a trail canter around the ring they headed for the first fence, which they cleared—to everyone's amazement. However, the second proved more difficult, and both Jiggs and the young lady ended up on the ground.

This all proved to dull for Sam Pancoast and Ted Baldwin. Riding the champion and reserve champion hunters of the show, this pair took the outside course the wrong way—riding abreast. Finally, however, the winner was Mrs. North Lockhart—the mother of five riding Lockhart girls.

F. E. Westenberger's smooth performing chestnut mare Night Wings put in one good round after another to end this show with the hunter championship. The 7-year-old mare by Spanish Jean won the open conformation hunter class, plus minor awards for her score of 9 points.

The reserve went to Dottie Hutton's mannerly chestnut mare Debutante, who was ridden by her owner.

A tie was the result in the open jumper division between Skippy Diehlman's Play Boy and Doris Spradlin's Timber Boy, each with 10 points. When the two horses were shown over a special course, the champion went to Play Boy, with Timber Boy taking the reserve. Both horses were owner-ridden.

Nebraska State Fair

A newcomer to the ranks of jumping horses, a grey mare named Stardust, made a name for herself at the Nebraska State Fair Horse Show by winning two of the three classes including the championship stake class. She was well on her way to winning the third class also when her rider took her off-course and she was disqualified. In the stake class she was awarded the Jim Sloss Memorial trophy given this year in memory of the late James E. Sloss of Lincoln, an ardent horseman throughout the years.

The course in the stake class was patterned after the Olympic stake course at the 1953 American Royal show although the Nebraska arena is but half the length of the Royal arena in Kansas City.

Stardust is a 5-year-old Quarter Horse mare owned by the Hensen Stables of Lincoln. Her jump training was begun in February by Clyde Henson. She has been placing consistently in the money in small shows in Nebraska during the summer, despite her inexperience.

New York State

A record number of entries, large crowds, and an increase in the quality of horses, all made the 1954 edition of the New York State Fair the largest and most successful in many years.

Working hunters turned out in the greatest numbers, but it was one regular campaigner who grabbed all the honors. Moonlight Bay, Miss Claire Lang Miller's brilliant gelding, with his owner up, was virtually unbeatable as he swept to five blues in his six classes, losing out only in the preliminary. This set him up for the championship with 25½ points, the greatest number of points amassed by any horse in the show.

In the strip division Miss Blanche Clark had Mrs. Charles Govern's two horses Strideaway and Pocket Mouse in high gear to garner the lion's share of the ribbons including three very nice wins. Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Haymond's The Angel with Mrs. Carol Kelly aboard put in his usual bold round to win the open.

North Shore

Through the bad graces of hurricanes Carol and Edna, North Shore's location on Long Island Sound, one of its most attractive assets, became its greatest liability. As a result of Carol the show grounds had been completely flooded. Most of the water had been pumped off and tons of sand brought in but the course was still in poor condition. The opening day was held under cloudy skies and the threat of Edna. In view of the weather reports most exhibitors decided to ship out to various stables on higher grounds with what proved to be the unfulfilled hope of returning Saturday. At first, the committee put off the start of the show 'till Saturday 1:00 p. m. since the center of the storm was supposed to hit due east around 4:00 a. m. Although, the storm began to wane by the afternoon the grounds had been inundated again and it was impossible to do anything else but cancel everything.

Only one championship had been awarded on the first (and only) day. The green conformation preliminary was held Friday afternoon instead of Saturday morning as scheduled. The tri-color went to Mrs. Morton W. Smith's Jazz Session ridden by Mr. Smith.

The committee will meet with the A. H. S. A. to discuss whether or not the championships can be awarded on the basis of a one day show.

100 Mile Trail Ride

Horsemen From Far and Wide Participate In Green Mountain Horse Association Event

Dr. Earle Johnson

The heavyweight and sweepstake winner of the 19th 100 Mile Trail Ride, sponsored annually by the Green Mountain Horse Association, was won by the beautiful registered Morgan Mare Arkomia, owned by C. J. O'Neill of Monteno, Illinois and ridden by Sandy Hunt of Middlebrush, New Jersey. This mare's dam was Lippitt—Miss Nekomia, a heavyweight division winner in 1952.

The lightweight division was won by Soneldon, a registered Morgan gelding owned and ridden by Jane Clark of Amesbury, Massachusetts. Soneldon was the lightweight division winner in 1953 and Miss Clark retains permanent possession of this cup by having had two winners in this division.

The junior division was won by another registered Morgan, Quorum, owned by Joan Cowie of Weston, Mass. and ridden by Joyce Saxe of Chestnut Hill, Mass. This is the first time that the Morgans have made a clean sweep of all divisions. Horses came from all over New England as well as New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Florida, Illinois, and Canada. All breeds were represented, the Morgans predominating with 17 registered horses. There were 66 horses that started and 54 that finished, by far the largest number and largest percentage ever to complete the ride. This large number of horses finishing the ride was undoubtedly due to the horses being of good type and well conditioned and to the weather's being unusually favorable.

As usual the horses were divided into three divisions: the heavyweight which carries 180 pounds or more; the lightweight which carries a minimum of 155 pounds; and the juniors who do not carry weight, but must be under seventeen years of age. The juniors must, however, adhere to all other conditions of the ride.

Forty miles are covered on each of the first two days of the ride in seven hours each and 20 miles the morning of the third day in three hours. One point is deducted for each three minutes that one is late. Forty points are scored on perfect time and 60 points on perfect condition. Condition points are deducted for the various changes in the horse that occur between starting and finishing. The evidence of considerable fatigue, sore or tender backs, lameness or shortness in stride, interference marks, cinch galls and other things which might effect the ability of the horse to do another 100 miles are all taken into consideration by the judges.

This is a great ride in which to determine the condition, stamina, and courage of the horse. One will find that 100 measured miles up and down Vermont hills in seventeen hours is really quite a test. Following is the list of winners in the various divisions.

SUMMARIES

Heavyweight division, carrying 180 or more pounds—1. Arkomia (Reg. Morgan) Sandy Hunt, 183, rider; C. J. O'Neill, owner; 2. Aisha (Reg. Morgan) Arlene Mason, 181, Sam P. Senior, Jr.; 3. Sands Point

Aside from the attendance of some four thousand people, the most outstanding feature of the successfully revived Sands Point show was the courses set up for the open jumpers. They were big and varied completely for every class. For the stake class there were fourteen fences in the ring. Not surprising, there was only one clean round and the 6th horse had 13½ faults.

The horses of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Merkel and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Coates dominated the jumper division so completely that the two owners shared all the blue ribbons and each had a horse end up in a tie for the title. In jumping off the title over the stake course the Coates' Royal Knight ridden by Sonny Brooks went first and was eliminated

Windsor

One of the nicest shows we have seen in this part of New England was that held at Buena Vista Farm in Windsor, Vermont. This was the third annual show put on by the Windsor Lions Club.

The local show working hunters championship stake went to Frederica Maher's Fire Glow and reserve to Mohawk Chief of the England Farm. Frederica Maher of Windsor put in her usual good performance and Judy, and Carol Hofman of So. Royalton, Vermont, were outstanding in the hunter division. Another very fine junior rider and certainly one to watch is 11-year-old Susan Robinson of Windsor.

Letters To The Editor

"Who Shall Lead In"

Dear Sir:

Congratulations on your editorial in the Chronicle of September 24, 1954.

This editorial really points to several ridiculous practices which if continued, will cause more ill feeling and damage to the home show world than any that could be conceived.

To question the integrity of any judge by insisting that he have no contact with his many friends prior to the show is questioning the very creed of all judges, that the horse must win to be pinned, regardless.

It does not appear to me, that the spirit which has carried the horse show to its national prominence to-day can survive under any restriction that questions the integrity of the judges. Such restrictions will only hurt all people connected with the great endeavor. Horse show committees must select well qualified judges whose integrity in decisions is beyond question. If judges are so selected and not promoted for some personal reasons or gains, the level of good judging will be upheld.

The restriction which if continued will work the greatest hardship is that concerning owners not leading their own horses into the ring, or stated another way, all horses must be led in by grooms. This restriction works no hardship on the large stables, as they may have their entries led in by grooms, paid riders or even managers. Whereas, the small owner, may not have a groom, or a borrowed rider,—probably not much more than love and sincere appreciation of horses, yet is stopped from leading in his own horse.

The following toast I think bears out all of these points:

Here is to the horse that is good enough to show

POLO NEWS

Meadow Brook-Triple C Quartet Wins Monty Waterbury Tournament

Bill Briordy

The Meadow Brook-Triple C quartet scored the "big double" in high goal polo when it captured the annual Monty Waterbury Memorial handicap polo championship Sunday afternoon, Oct. 3, by beating the Brandywine four, 9 to 8, in a double overtime match on International Field of the Meadow Brook Club, Westbury, L. I.

A goal struck off the mallet of Don Beveridge, riding at No. 1, in the second extra session enabled Meadow Brook-Triple C. to gain the decision. Last month in Chicago the same outfit carried off the National Open championship.

Beveridge rode in front of Pete Bostwick, Alan L. Corey, Jr., and Harold Barry. Brandywine had Herb Pennell, Ray Harrington, Dr. Clarence C. (Buddy) Combs and Bill Mayer swinging mallets in that order.

Giving up a two-goal allowance, the champions trailed by 4-0 at the close of two chukkers. However, Meadow Brook-Triple C. began to move in the third stanza and evened matters in the sixth by registering three times while holding Brandywine scoreless.

Neither team was able to count in the seventh chukker, but Beveridge saved the day when he rapped the clincher in the eighth. Beveridge and Bostwick shared scoring laurels for the victors with three goals apiece, while Combs took scoring honors with four markers. The match, played in the rain for the last five periods, was staged for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. branches of Nassau and Suffolk counties on Long Island.

The Fairfield foursome reached the final round of the National 12-goal championship play by turning back Blind Brook, 6 to 4, in a semi-final match at the Blind Brook Polo Club, Purchase, N. Y. The score was tied at 2-all at intermission.

Fairfield, with Bill Crawford, Henry Lewis, Tommy Glynn and Randy Crawford, came up with three goals in the fourth chukker to earn the award. Randy Crawford and Lewis each notched a pair of tallies for the winners, while Jack Crawford paced Blind Brook with two. Adie von Gontard, Juan Rodriguez and Hans Ditisheim were the other Blind Brook riders.

Fairfield will meet the winner of the Farmington-Brandywine semi-final for the title.

At Bethpage, L. I., the Brookville poloists registered five times in the last chukker to take the measure of Huntington, 6-5, in the feature game of a double-header. In the other match, Wheatley Hills topped Bethpage by 6-5.

Brandywine Defeats Oak Brook 10-7 in Second Game, National Open

A strong Brandywine team from Kennett Square, Pennsylvania defeated the host Oak Brook Polo Club in the second game of the National Open by the score of 10 to 7. Roy Barry opened the scoring for Brandywine while Cecil Smith, the countrys only active 10 goal player scored for Oak Brook and the first chukker looked like a well evened match. In the second chukker Brandywine scored four goals, two by Captain Ray Harrington and one each by Billy Mayer and Clarence (Buddy) Combs. In the third chukker Brandywine increased their lead by scoring two goals while holding Oak Brook to one goal. The score at the half stood at 7-3, Brandywine leading. In the fourth chukker Billy Mayer converted twice for Brandywine while Roy Barry playing the number four position was keeping the goal closed to Oak Brook.

The fifth period Oak Brook came into its own and on long drives from Cecil Smith, Del Carroll scored twice for Oak Brook. Billy Mayer scored for Brandywine. Early in the sixth period Cecil Smith was injured and was replaced by Michael Healy, the alternate for the Oak Brook team. The Healy brothers, Tom and Mike gave a good account in the sixth period by scoring one goal each, but time ran out and the final score 10 for Brandywine, 7 Oak Brook. The final game is scheduled for Oak Brook Polo field Sunday September 12th, CCC-Meadow Brook versus Brandywine.

Farmington Club Scores Upset Over Brandywine Team by 7-3 Margin

By Ann Braun

The Farmington Valley Polo Club chalked up another brilliant one on the heavily-loaded victory side of the slate October 10, as they upset the favored Brandywine Polo Club 7-3, thus earning a coveted try at the National Twelve Goal Championship.

Sparked by Barc Robinson of Avon, veteran of the earliest days of Farmington polo, the Dark Blue fought to a commanding lead after a 2-2 halftime tie, and never slackened the pace. Robinson continually beat Brandywine's Jerry Powell to the ball at the throw-ins, and succeeded in keeping the visitors off-guard throughout the game.

Although both teams were equal in handicap, Brandywine were the favorites by virtue of their two outstanding six-goalers, Ray Harrington and Billy Mayer. Both men lived up to their ratings and reputation, but the more evenly distributed Farmington handicaps—Colt 4, Marenholz 3, Butterworth 3, Robinson 2—accounted for their more equal share of the playing chores, and probably for their edge in the victory.

Goals by Robinson and Marenholz in the fourth chukker gave Farmington a 4-2 edge, and Robinson made it 5-2 at the start of the fifth. The stunned Brandywine quartet punched in their last goal—that by Jack Norm Taylor—in the fifth, but Frank Butterworth slammed in two more, one in each of the last two periods, to complete the scoring at 7-3, Farmington.

The largest crowd of the season at Farmington was treated to a spectacle of fast and furious, but exceptionally clean, polo. More than once stifled gasps of incredulity were heard in the stands at some unusual action or stickwork. Although continuous action at such breath-taking speeds as the game was played usually results in considerably greater carelessness, only four fouls—all of them for crossing—were called.

Butterworth took scoring honors with three goals, followed by Marenholz and Robinson—all of Farmington—with two apiece.

Dallas Wins Annual 16-Goal Autumn Plate Tournament at Westbury

Bill Briordy

The Dallas (Texas) four rode off with the annual 16-goal Autumn Plates polo tournament at the Meadow Brook Club, Westbury, L. I., Sunday afternoon, Oct. 10, by halting the Old Westbury quartet, 6 to 4, in the final round match on International Field.

Raworth Williams, Bill Whitehead, Dr. Clarence C. (Buddy) Combs and Luis Ramos formed the Dallas side, while Marty Christensen, Henry Lewis 3d, Alan L. Corey Jr. and Bill Stoothoff swung mallets in that order for Old Westbury.

Dallas enjoyed a 2-0 advantage via handicap at the outset and Ramos split the posts to help his team to a 3-0 lead in the first chukker. Christensen notched Old Westbury's first marker in the third chapter, and then Williams registered for a 4-1 leeway.

Combs and Williams tallied for Dallas and Corey counted for Old Westbury during the fourth and fifth chukkers to increase Dallas' bulge to 6-2. Dallas failed to score in the sixth period while Christensen and Corey broke away for Old Westbury to complete the scoring.

In the semi-finals of the Autumn Plates play at Meadow Brook on Oct. 8, Dallas reached the final by halting Meadow Brook, 10-9, while Old Westbury went ahead at the expense of Westbury, 5-4.

Combs paced Dallas' attack with four goals. Westbury made all of its goals in the first half of the game with Old Westbury and led by 4-2 at intermission. However, Old Westbury came up with three goals in the second half for the verdict while blanking Westbury.

In the final regularly scheduled match of the season at Bethpage State Park, L. I., Sunday, Oct. 10, the game was cancelled for—believe it or not—lack of players.

University of Virginia Defeats Camden for 2nd Victory of Fall Season

The Cavalier

The University of Virginia won their second game of their fall home season by an 8-3 count over Camden. One thousand spectators packed the sideboards to see Sandy Bowers bang the first Va. goal in the second minute of the first chukker. Doug Niccol followed immediately with a spectacular backhand and added another after the bell to put Camden out in front 2-1 at the conclusion of the first period.

In the second period Bowers broke loose and supported by the effective riding off of his teammates was able to dribble half the field for an uncontested goal. Still in the first minute of play of the second period Ronnie Mutch added another Virginia goal via a free shot from the 60 yard marker. In the waning minutes of play, Wall received a beautiful under the neck pass from Mutch and put the Cavaliers out in front 4-2.

Again in the third the two Virginia goals were accounted for by Mutch and Bowers. The fourth period produced no score for either team and in the fifth Virginia accounted for two markers on goals by Ned Parmele and Wall, while Niccol added the last Camden score.

Beautiful teamwork accounted for the easy 8-3 victory for the Virginia trio.

"Pete" Bostwick Stars In CCC-Meadow Brook's Championship Win

Scoring star in CCC-Meadow Brook's championship win on Sunday, Sept. 12, was G. H. "Pete" Bostwick for CCC-Meadowbrook, who counted for half of his team's 10 goals. Harold Barry scored four times and Captain A. D. "Don" Beveridge once.

Alan L. Corey, Jr. at Number Three for the winners and Buddy Combs at the same spot for Brandywine did an inspired job and provided the spectator crowd of several thousand with much to cheer about.

Brandywine pulled ahead with one goal each by Billy Mayer and Buddy Combs, in the first chukker.

Late in that period, Harold Barry scored for CCC-Meadow Brook and Bostwick evened things up with another in the

Great French-Bred Sire, Bull Dog Dies At Coldstream Stud

One of the greatest of all imported stallions, Bull Dog, died Sunday at Coldstream Stud, Lexington, Kentucky of old age. Imported to this country as a 3-year-old in 1930 by the late Charles B. Shaffer, father of E. E. Dale Shaffer and founder of the Coldstream Stud, the colt entered the stud the following season.

A winner of only 2 races during his 3-year-old campaign *Bull Dog's main appeal was his pedigree—by *Teddy—Plucky Liege, by Spearmint, and the fact that his older brother *Sir Gallahad III had been imported some 5 years previously, and had out the outstanding horse of 1930, Gallant Fox.

At the time when *Bull Dog came to the Bluegrass area the bloodstock picture was roughly this: *Sir Gallahad III was heading the leading sires list (mainly through the efforts of his aforementioned son.) Beneath him ranking in order of monetary winnings of their get stood Pennant, *Sun Briar, St. James, Sir Mar-1940, '45; 2nd in 1942, '44; and in 1943 he headed the list. During that season his get won a total of $372,706—contributions to this goal coming from the stakes performers Occupy, Bull Reigh, Rodney Stone, Cassis, Occupation, Dogpatch, Eternity, Miss Dogwood, Our Boots and Up the Creek, with the additional aid of 65 other sons and daughters of the *Teddy horse. However it must be recalled that $100,000 purses were a rarity. Indeed the richest net purse to the winner during the year was the Kentucky Derby worth $60,725 to its victor, Count Fleet.

*Bull Dog's name slipped from the list in 1947, the year his son Bull Lea was the champion. But the following season the great French sire's name was back in 10th place, when he had out the stakes performers Johns Joy, Miss Mommy, Noble Impulse, Preoccupy, Whiffenpoof and Mystery Lady. This was the last sputtering of a dying flame, as the name of *Bull Dog never reappeared, put their maternal grandsire in 9th standing. From that year on to 1953, he was never worse than 7th, and last year, was the leading sire of broodmares in amount of money won by their produce, $1,384,810, squelching his older brother and arch rival, *Sir Gallahad III by $299,549. Among the many stakes winners out of *Bull Dog mares are Tom Fool, Spartan Valor, Royal Coinage, Imbros, Rough'n Tumble, Arab Actress and many others.

From April 30, 1934 when Top Dog won the first race at Churchill Downs in the silks of E. E. Dale Shaffer to become the first winner from the first crop of *Bull Dog to Carolina Queen his last added money performer, the French stallion has sired 52 stakes winners. However, *Bull Dog will be most remembered, as the sire of Bull Lea, who from all appearances will be the one through which the sire line will be carried on in this country.

Bull Lea, possibly the greatest stallion in this country since Lexington, is the first stallion, and probably the last, to sire the world's leading money winner (Citation), the world's leading money winning gelding (Armed), and the world's leading money winning mare (Bewitch), all for the farm for which he himself raced and now holds court, Calumet. Bull Lea was the leading sire in 1947, '48, '49, '52 and '53. He was also 2nd in 1946, '50 and '51.

*Bull Dog has spent his entire life in this country at Coldstream Farm, and when Mr. Shaffer sold the farm to Henry Knight several years back, arrangements were made to leave the aged stallion there. According to report, *Bull Dog will be buried in the special horse burying ground at Coldstream, where a suitable marker will be installed above the grave.

tin, Black Servant, *Donnacona, *Wrack, Whisk Broom II, and High Time. In the sires of broodmares department *Spanish Prince II, Campfire, Tryster, High Time and *Royal Canopy held the first 5 high placings. While the star of *Bull Dog as a sire was in the process of ascent, the brilliance of the majority of these aforementioned stallions was descending into a faint glimmer.

The Coldstream stallion's name first appeared on the leading sires "parade" in 1935 in 15th place, when his first crop of foals were 4-year-olds. Never again in the ensuing 12 years was the name of this illustrious sire to retreat this low. The following year (1936) *Bull Dog moved forward to the 6th position; stood 5th in 1937, '47; 4th in 1938, '39; 3rd in due not only to the great horse's age, but to the fact that 1947 was the last season he stood to a book of mares.

The *Teddy horse also marked up a good record among sires of 2-year-old winners, and is the only sire to head the juvenile sire list in money won by his first season get, 3 years in succession—1940, '42 and '43. This accomplishment was aided in the main by Our Boots, Occupation and Occupy in their respective 2-year-old years.

The Coldstream horse first appeared among the leading sires of Broodmares in 1944, when five of his daughters produced stakes winners, whose earnings first five minutes of the second period. Harold Barry then scored twice to open the third period. Bostwick tallied the third goal of the chukker.

A lopsided 9-2 score in the fourth chukker resulted from one goal by Barry and another two by Bostwick, plus one by Beveridge.

Brandywine came gamely to life in the fifth on a pass from Roy Barry to Mayer, keeping CCC-Meadow Brook to one more score, a penalty shot by Bostwick.

Barry and Harrington each scored for Brandywine in the sixth, but it was too late.

The historic Open trophy, dating to 1910, six years after the tournament was first begun, was presented to Beveridge by Mrs. Maryland McCormick, who was accompanied to the game by her husband, Col. Robert R. McCormick, the Chicago publisher.

Its Up to The Committee

Dear Sir:

There is no question whatsoever that there is a great need for better show management as set forth in your editorial of September 10th. However, you considered the matter from the individual show's viewpoint?

As you no doubt know from the experiences which have resulted from the Blue Ridge Hunt Horse Show held in your own hunting country, the added expense of a professional manager is practically too much for the income derived. This is true of many of the smaller shows and while there is no question that a show of any size and duration should have a professional at its helm, such a person often times is out of the question for many events.

One problem which arises is when a show committee meets, makes plans and then draws up certain rules for its forthcoming event. Such rules are made to better the show as are other improvements which take place from year to year. At this year's Warrenton Horse Show the committee decided to reinstate the ruling concerning an owner leading his horse into the ring. Prior to World War II, the rule was in effect. As we all know, during the war it was necessary to eliminate this ruling but now there is no reason why this should not be done. It was not a new rule; it was simply a matter of going back to a former practice. The same rule has been in operation at the Upperville Colt & Horse Show for many years.

As far as "boom times" are concerned, this could not be the case until the shows have been able to build up the attendance. Granted there are usually plenty of entries and there are now owners coming into the game, this alone cannot take care of the "depression" which has settled over shows as far as the gate receipts are concerned.

Different localities demand different show set-ups. However, it is to the interest of one and all to better the entire running of any horse show and pay particular attention to drawing larger crowds. When this is accomplished, there will be more money in the coffers to make the shows even bigger and better.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Ruth Guitar

Racing Review

Monmouth Park's president, Amory L. Haskell, got the money at Garden State when his filly Blue Sparkler won this first running of the Wanda through a disqualification. The homebred daughter of Knave High and Blue Tiara retained her undefeated record (now standing at four wins out of four starts) and returned a $7 mutuel as the public's favorite in the 15-horse field.

Actually, Rokeby Stable's Blue Banner was first to cross the line, holding a neck margin over the Woodland Farm filly. But Glen Lasswell, astride the Haskell colorbearer, must have had a pretty good idea that the winner would come down. When Blue Banner ducked in nearing the sixteenth pole, she caused a chain reaction which involved My Blue Sky, Wild Orange, Misty, Sorceress and Miss Charm. Perhaps not a truly run race, the Wanda nevertheless meant $24,025 in purse money for Blue Sparkler as she picked up her second straight stakes win. Previously, she had won Atlantic City's Home-bred Handicap for Jersey-bred 2-year-olds. Her earnings stand at $34,800.

Benjamin Franklin Handicap, 12th running, 1 1/8 miles, 3-year-olds (October 16). Helioscope gave every indication of being a good colt, carrying second high-weight of 122 pounds and pasting the topweighted Preakness winner Hasty Road (124 pounds) with a three-length defeat. Certainly, he is the best horse to race for William G. Helis, Jr. since the brilliant Spittan Valor. Trained by Harry Hausner, of Timonium, Md., Helioscope earned $21,500 to run his 1954 earnings to $101,925. The win was his seventh of the year out of eleven starts and he went off 9-5 favorite over Hasty Road, the strong second choice at 2-1. Jockey Joe Culmone wasn't even obliged to ask for the colt's top effort as he scored with ease over nine opponents. Bred by Mrs. M. W. Woolwine, Helioscope was purchased for $17,000 by Helis at the Keeneland sales of 1952. He is a son of Heliopolis and the Man o' War mare War Flower.

Laurel

Turf Cup Handicap, 3rd running, 1 1/8 miles (turf), 3-year-olds and up (October 16). Maryland opened its fall racing season with 17,200 fans in attendance, and their 2-1 favorite in the Turf Cup scored a brilliant 2 1/2-length victory without ever feeling the whip. Stan, owned by the Hasty House Farm of Mr. and Mrs. Allie Reuben, is an English-bred 4-year-old gelding sired by Kingsway and out of the Burmeux mare Final Sweep. The Turf Cup marked his third consecutive grass stakes victory and first money of $17,925 brought his 1954 earnings to $154,075. Remarkable considering the size of the field (13 horses) and the narrowness of the course was the manner in which Stan came from ninth position in the final quarter-mile to score easily over News Again. He looked like a broken-field runner on a football team as Jockey Eldon Nelson steered inside, outside and between horses through the stretch drive. He was bred by J. Sharp, of England, and is trained by Harry Trotsek.

Tanforan

San Francisco Handicap, 21st running, 1 1/8 miles, 3-year-olds and up (October 9). As is customary for Calumet Farm, the stable of Mrs. Eugene Markey sent out the high-weighted starter in the $15,000-added race but Fleet Bird, totting 127, Continued On Page 34 couldn't get the job done on this occasion.

Stranglehold, owned by Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Phillips, went off as odds-on favorite under his 125-pound impost and proceeded to carry Jockey Willie Shoemaker to his second straight win in the California stakes. Last year, Wee Willie got the job done with Trusting (carrying 128), but in this season's renewal, Willie received an even faster ride.

Stranglehold equaled the mile and a sixteenth track record in scoring over Blue Trumpeter and Don Rebelde while Fleet Bird was among the four also-rans.

Earning purse money of \$9,750, Stranglehold was clocked in 1:42 $\frac{1}{2}$. He is trained by R. H. McDaniel and was bred by W. L. Ranch.

El Camino Handicap, 6th running, 6 furlongs, 2-year-olds (October 12). Only six juveniles contested the \$10,000-added Columbus Day feature, and it was the promising Calumet Farm colt Trentonian who picked up the winner's check of \$6,325. The bay son of Bull Lea and Iron Maiden had won the first two starts of his career last spring then twice finished second in stakes company. With Ralph Neves up and 122 pounds the weight assignment, Trentonian finally reached stakes-winning class by downing Battle Dance and Jean's Joe in the good time of 1:10 $\frac{1}{4}$. The California public let him go off at 4-1—a big price for a Calumet horse in a six-horse field. Bred by his owner, Trentonian has been sparingly raced and may well be a starter in next spring's 3-year-old classics.

Keeneland

Alcibiades Stakes, 3rd running, 7 furlongs, 2-year-old fillies (October 16). It was supposed to have been a duel between Lea Lane and Gandharva with Maine Chance Farm's Myrtle Jet the extreme outsider. The results, however, were different. Myrtle Jet, ridden by Walter Blum, got home a driving winner at a $38.40 mutuel in 1:23. Her victory enriched Mrs. Elizabeth Graham by $22,717.75. Lea Lane, who had trained brilliantly, was second over Gandharva.

Hawthorne Park

Sun Beau Handicap, 6 furlongs, 3-year-olds and up (October 13). More accustomed to running against claiming company than in an overnight handicap, Master Red ran off with the Sun Beau, scoring by four lengths from Super Devil, the odds-on favorite. Owned by M. M. Mitchell, Master Red negotiated the distance in 1:13 $\frac{1}{2}$ over a heavy track, gaining his fourth win out of 21 starts for the year. Less than a month ago he ran for an \$8,000 claiming price, and there were no takers. The K. D. Kepler-trained 4-year-old earned \$6,500 in the race, putting his 1954 total at \$16,825. A gelded son of Royal Red and Matchless, Master Red was bred by O. Hall.

Hawthorne Gold Cup, 19th running, 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ miles, 3-year-olds and up (October 16). While his stablemate High Gun was winning in New York, King Ranch's Rejected did considerable running on his own in Cicero, Illinois. The 5-year-old son of Revoked and By Line drove to a two-length win over Mister Black while carrying top weight of 123 pounds, most of which was in the person of Eric Guerin. Co-favored at 2-1 with Smoke Screen, Rejected moved from well off the pace in the seven-horse field to be going away at the finish. He was bred by Robert Kleberg's King Ranch and is, of course, trained by Max Hirsch. He gained a winner's purse of \$61,550.

Suffolk Downs

Columbus Day Handicap, 16th running 1 $\frac{1}{8}$ miles, 3-year-olds and up (October 12). Fife and Drum, claimed for just \$9,000 by W. G. Morton at Saratoga in August, gained his first added-money triumph over Diamond Ned in the New England Columbus Day feature. The 6-year-old son of Amphitheatre and Parade Girl was bred by Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and has always proved a competent money-winner. But his new trainer, W. C. Freeman, may have found an even more solid hole card. Anyway, Fife and Drum was always close to the pace in the mile and an eighth stakes, moved to the lead entering the stretch and was kept to a drive by Chris Rogers while holding Diamond Ned safe by a length. It was the horse's sixth win out of 20 starts this year, and the winner's check of \$5,500 brought total 1954 earnings to \$30,725. Since being claimed by Morton, Fife and Drum has not run in a claiming race but has gained four victories out of six starts and has been no worse than fourth.

Mayflower Stakes, 20th running, 6 furlongs, 2-year-olds (October 16). Only once before in six starts had Door Prize come home a winner and that was from maiden company at Aqueduct. Because of this, the gelded son of Eight Thirty and Due Reward went off a 15-1 chance in the New England race. Perhaps it was the mud which moved him up, or maybe the youngster had just suddenly found himself. In any event, he won by a length from Sound of Dawn, earning an $8,000 check for the Lazy F Ranch which is also his breeder. Total earnings for the Oleg Dubassoff-trained gelding now stand at $12,550.

SALE AT ROLLING ROCK

Bidding $1,500 for Reform, a brown yearling colt by *Rufigi—Laurel Belle, by *Coq Gaulois Dr. J. P. Replogle of Johnstown, Pa., topped the second annual sale of Thoroughbreds held at the Rolling Rock Club, Ligonier, Pa., on Saturday, October 2. Bred by the Rolling Rock Farms, the attractive yearling won the Pennsylvania yearling class at the recent Bryn Mawr-Chester County Horse Show and was reserve champion of his division.

Nine head of assorted hunters, yearlings and racers were sold for a total of $5,800.

In the absence of the ailing Humphrey Finney, the gavel was wielded by Chris Wood, Jr., field director of the United Hunts Racing Association.

SPANISH TEAM

Commandante Jaime Garcia Cruz, one of the members of the Spanish Equestrian Team, and six horses of the jumping team ranked tops in Europe, arrived in New York by air and by sea on Monday, Sept. 27 to compete in the 66th National Horse Show, at Madison Square Garden.

Commandante Garcia Cruz was met at Idlewild by Walter B. Devereux, president of the National, and Col. Robert Williams, representing the First Army, Fort Jay, Governor's Island.

The six horses arrived at Pier 1, Hoboken, aboard the S. S. Guadalupe of the Spanish Line. They are Quonian, Derby, Bohemio, Cesar, Bayamo and Baden. All are rated among the best in Europe.

Spain, which has not competed at the National Horse Show since 1926, will face Canada, Mexico, Western Germany and the U. S. in the international competition at the annual 8-day show.

PROF. ANDERSON DIES

Walter S. Anderson, 87, retired Professor of Genetics in the College of Agriculture at the University of Kentucky and author of numerous works on horse breeding, died last week in a Lexington hospital. Although he suffered a stroke several years ago, he had remained active until recent weeks.

Born in Academy, Va., Prof. Anderson received his early education in the public schools of that State and at Randolph-Macon College, from which he was graduated in 1896 after having been granted two literary awards as the best speaker of his class. Until 1903, he served as Principal of Alleghany Collegiate Institute in West Virginia. The next ten years he spent as Professor of Biology at Kentucky Wesleyan College.

He came to the University of Kentucky in 1913 and remained there until his retirement in 1937. During this period he authored such works as "Blood Lines of Genetic Value," "Inheritance of Coat Color in Horses," "Sterility in Relation to Horse Breeding" and "Vitality of Spermatozoa."

For seven years in the late 1920's, he leased Patchen Wilkes Farm, later operated by the late Joseph A. Goodwin; and maintained a dairy there. Prof. Anderson served for 11 years on the Fayette County School Board, part of that period as Chairman. He was also Vice-President of a Lexington bank.

Survivors include his wife, three sons and nine grandchildren.

ROBERT W. HANSON

In this column last week we noted briefly the death of Bob Hanson who was a member of the British Team which competed in this country a year ago. He had been ill for several months as a result of injuries received during the last war.

Mr. Hanson was born in 1925; joined the army in 1942; and was made a major in 1944, thereby becoming one of the youngest men ever to have held that rank. The last issue of "Horse and Hound" says of his career:

"Hanson was among our most promising young show jumpers and, until he was struck down by illness which was the direct outcome of his war service, had been showing rapidly increasing mastery of this highly specialized equestrian art. He had thoroughly earned his place in our international team which won the Aga Khan's Cup at Dublin two years ago, and on that occasion he showed quite remarkable coolness and judgment in an event which is always a very severe test of nerve and determination. It seemed that he was destined for a long and distinguished career for he was certain to be mounted superbly and, above all, he possessed the patience and modesty which always admit that, whatever the success achieved, there is more to learn.

"His wedding to Miss Edge, herself a keen and accomplished horsewoman, was a brilliant social occasion in Dublin at which there was a notable gathering of English and Irish sportsmen. It appeared probable that here there would be a fortunate alliance of two attractive and popular people of like interests. That has been cut all too short and the sympathy of their many friends goes out to his young widow and to his father, who has done so much to help us to achieve the great prestige gained by our international horsemen and horsewomen in the past few years."

THE HUNT MEETING CIRCUIT

Following a committee meeting of the Monmouth County Hunt Racing Association, Amory L. Haskell, chairman, announced that the 24th running of the Monmouth County Hunt Cup will carry a $1,000 purse. Heretofore the 3-mile timber fixture was worth only $600. The timber test, along with the Monmouth County Gold Cup, a brush handicap worth $1,200 added, will highlight the 6-race program on Mr. Haskell's Woodland Farms estate, Red Bank, N. J. on Saturday, October 23. . . . American hunt racing will be well represented in Europe this fall. The Frank R. Wartons recently sailed on the Queen Mary for a visit to England, France and the Low Countries. Mr. Warton is a director of the United Hunts Racing Association and a member of the Illinois Racing Board. Edward Brennan, general manager of Monmouth Park and an official at many hunt race meetings, sailed for a quick look at Paris and a visit to English and Irish racing centers and stud farms. The Austin A. Browns took off for Spain and the bullfights. The popular young amateur rider will miss the autumn hunt racing for the first time in many years. For the past three winters, Austin has managed the Court Inn in Camden, S. C. However, when he and his charming wife, Sally, return to this country, they will proceed to Vero Beach, Florida, where he will take over the helm of the Sea Horse Inn. . . . With Humphrey Finney busy with the initial Garden State yearling sales, Chris Wood, Jr., field director of the United Hunts, took over the famous Calcutta Pool which precedes the Rolling Rock hunt races at Ligonier, Pa.
